Signature Sake

Ozumo Junmai Ginjo

When Ozumo opened ten years ago, sake was much less familiar on the world stage than it is today. Our founder, Jeremy Umland, also known as Shacho, knew easy drinking sake would be a hit in the States.

For this reason he sought to bring premium, small production sake to the palate of as many people as possible. And after many years of searching for the perfect sake to represent Ozumo, we found Seitoku.

Tucked away in a small village in Gunma prefecture, Seitoku brewery has been working for several hundred years creating humble, local sake. Light and herbaceous, it is neither overly dry, or too sweet. The perfect amount of fruit comes through while leaving the palate fresh and ready for another sip.

In hopes of revitalizing the sake industry, Director of Sake, Jessica Furui, and a very passionate service staff are reaching new sake fans each and every day. Simply by enjoying your favorite sake, you are helping to keep these incredible breweries thriving for generations of sake drinkers to come.
